The California Community Colleges is the largest provider of workforce training in the nation. With more than 200 Career Education programs to choose from, students learn by exploring, collaborating and doing. California Community Colleges’ Career Education programs hold the key to unlocking a quality and affordable education giving students real-world skills that lead them to the in-demand, well-paying jobs of today and the future while building stronger and more prosperous communities in the process.

California’s North Far North Region has 15 California community colleges offering a variety of unique and hands-on Career Education programs. These programs are taught by instructors and professionals who work in that field of study and each program provides the training and skills you need for the jobs that need you!
The California Community Colleges, the largest provider of workforce training in the nation, offers Career Education programs at 114 community colleges across the state. With more than 200 programs taught by instructors and professionals in their field of study, Career Education programs allow students to learn by exploring, collaborating and doing hands-on training and skills for the jobs of today and the future. To learn more, please visit CaliforniaCareerEducation.com.

With a variety of unique Career Education programs, students have the ability to gain a certificate and start in the career of their choice. Below are just a few highlighted programs available at North/Far North Region California community colleges.

Residential Construction (College of the Redwoods)

Residential Construction program is unique in that students build a complete three bedroom/two bathroom house each academic year and the house is sold in the open market. Students design the home, design/build/install cabinets, build the house, install solar and perform all major construction duties. By the time the house is put on the market, roughly 100 students have had some hand in design and constructing the home.

Folsom Lake College Medical Laboratory Technology

Folsom Lake College is the only community college north of the Bay Area that prepares students to qualify for and pass the National Medical Laboratory Technician Licensing exam. Medical laboratory technicians perform a variety of routine tests under the supervision of a clinical laboratory scientist. They help doctors diagnose and treat diseases. They perform blood counts, urinalysis, and test cells, tissues, blood and other specimens. Microscopes, automated blood analyzers and other laboratory equipment are commonly used by technicians. The program at Folsom Lake includes aspects of didactic and clinical training to prepare students to step into functioning medical laboratories, either in a hospital or research lab setting. The program has robust prerequisites and is intended to equip completers to execute any aspect of their profession both within and outside California.

WHAT CAREER EDUCATION PROGRAMS ARE AVAILABLE?

California community colleges in the North/Far North Region offer a wide variety of programs. Some of the largest industries in the area are Agriculture, Water and Environmental Technologies, Health, Advanced Manufacturing, and the California Community Colleges, the largest provider of workforce training in the nation, offers Career Education programs at 114 community colleges across the state. With more than 200 programs taught by instructors and professionals in their field of study, Career Education programs allow students to learn by exploring, collaborating and doing hands-on training and skills for the jobs of today and the future. To learn more, please visit CaliforniaCareerEducation.com.

HELPFUL LINKS

Visit CaliforniaCareerEducation.com to explore a variety of programs designed to get you fast tracked to the career you want, with the skills you need. To learn more about the North/Far North Regional Consortium, visit http://nfnrc.org/.

To learn more about financial aid assistance, visit canaffordcollege.com.

To apply to a California community college, visit CCCApply.org.

To learn more about the North/Far North Regional Consortium, visit:

http://nfnrc.org/.

To learn more about financial aid assistance, visit:

icanaffordcollege.com.

To apply to a California community college, visit:

CCCApply.org.

The California Community Colleges, the largest provider of workforce training in the nation, offers Career Education programs at more than 200 colleges across the state. With more than 200 programs taught by instructors and professionals in their field of study, Career Education programs allow students to learn by exploring, collaborating and doing hands-on training and skills for the jobs of today and the future. To learn more, please visit CaliforniaCareerEducation.com.

HELPFUL LINKS

Visit CaliforniaCareerEducation.com to explore a variety of programs designed to get you fast tracked to the career you want, with the skills you need. To learn more about the North/Far North Regional Consortium, visit http://nfnrc.org/.

To learn more about financial aid assistance, visit canaffordcollege.com.

To apply to a California community college, visit CCCApply.org.

To learn more about the North/Far North Regional Consortium, visit:

http://nfnrc.org/.

To learn more about financial aid assistance, visit:

icanaffordcollege.com.

To apply to a California community college, visit:

CCCApply.org.